
When should you consult your doctor?

By jerome

Published: 2007-09-05 09:41

The presence of cough lasting for more than 2 weeks necessitates consultation with a physician. Self-treatment is not recommended especially for heavy smokers suffering from chronic bronchitis, very young children, and the elderly.